Recognizing Signs of Drug and Alcohol Addiction

Identifying some key signs and symptoms of alcohol or drug addiction can help clarify the seriousness of the situation for yourself or a loved one and encourage you to take action to get help urgently. Here are some common behavioral changes that can indicate substance addiction:

- Difficulty going for long periods without using the drug
- Frequently missing work or school, worsening performance
- Needing increased dosages of the drug or alcohol to feel high
- Spending a lot of time trying to obtain the drug
- Damaging one's finances in order to keep buying the drug or alcohol
- Failing in efforts to stop using the alcohol or drug
- Experiencing withdrawal symptoms when trying to quit using the drug or alcohol
- Loss of interest in formerly favorite activities
- Stealing or committing other crimes to obtain the drug
- Putting oneself or others at physical risk while high on the alcohol or drug
- Continuing use of the substance even after recognizing the damage it's causing to your life

I was introduced to Renaissance Recovery Center in June of 2020 when my husband decided to join their IOP program. As a spouse of someone who has battled addiction of all sorts for our entire 18yr relationship, I was not very convinced that this program would change anything but he was so sure this was where he needed to be so I agreed to it. I am so thankful that I chose to support my husband and his decision to partake in this program because it completely changed our life for the better. For the first time since we were 18yrs old, I finally saw the man I fell in love with coming back to life. This program, Steve, Dan, Lindsay, Nils and many of the men that my husband met in this group truly saved his life and our family. Ryan just celebrated 8months sober from everything and on 2/17/21 he celebrates 1 yr sober from opiates (which was his achilles heel) Renaissance took the time to invest in Ryan and Ryan gave his all to Renaissance and the outcome of this relationship is one that changed his course in life for the better. Ryan finally got down to the core of why he did things that he did and learned how to cope in different ways which led him back to a much stronger relationship with God and a core group of men that he continues to grow with and support throughout their individual recoveries. I am forever grateful to Steve and Lindsay especially as they played such a HUGE ROLE in helping Ryan deal with all his trauma and addiction. If you or someone you love struggles with addiction, I highly recommend Renaissance!! I have never seen anyone more genuine in their calling to help others as what Steve and his team are to the individuals in their programs. Thank you for saving my family and showing Ryan what it means to LIVE a full and meaningful life outside of addiction.

"Sick and tired of being sick and tired". "Wanna get clean and sober but don't know how". These were my thoughts to myself before coming to Renaissance in June of 2020. Renaissance was literally a God-Send for me and my family. I had struggled with addiction(s) for almost 20 years and it was destroying my life. I did a lot of research about different programs but ALWAYS kept coming back to Renaissance for some reason. After my initial call with Steve I understood why right away. The team is truly one of a kind and the family atmosphere is felt right away. Steve, Lindsay, Dan, Chad, and Nils all will forever have an impact on my life. The thoughtfulness, caring, genuine emotional support, and knowledge that they provided and gave to me is exactly what I was looking for in a program. Words can't express what their program did for me and the gift of recovery/sobriety that they helped me gain for the 1st time in almost 20 years. I will always be in recovery and with their help and support I have a GREAT foundation and tools to work with to continue what they started from here on out. From the bottom of my heart (My wife and soon to be 4 boys hearts) I/we say THANK YOU for helping me get my life back and so much more!!Ryan Wisniewski

Drug Rehabilitation Gives You a New Life

It may seem too difficult to overcome your addiction, but with the right professional help, you can get your life back! You need the support of a proven effective drug or alcohol rehab team to help you identify and come to understand the factors that have led to your substance abuse.

When you take the opportunity to recognize and process issues like past traumas and severe stressors in your life, you can deal with them directly and receive the treatment you need in order to take power over your life and permanently overcome drug or alcohol abuse. You'll also learn more effective ways to cope with stressors and successfully maintain your recovery over the long term.

Renaissance Recovery Center Outpatient Addiction Treatment

We believe everyone can overcome alcohol or drug addiction with the right kind of support. Our rehab alcohol and drug addiction counselors offer an exceptional level of experience and track record of success in helping people become free from addiction.

We combine one-on-one counseling, group, and family therapy. Your treatment is personalized for your specific needs. Medication-assisted treatment is available for people with addictions to drugs like morphine, oxycodone, fentanyl, or others.

We offer additional excellent alcohol and drug addiction recovery programs that many graduates of the rehab program utilize after completing rehab. We provide a personalized and enhanced recovery experience that is both clinically based and faith-based to support wellness long-term.

90-Day Intensive Outpatient Treatment In Arizona

Both the 90-day outpatient drug rehab program and the alcohol rehab program at Renaissance are 3 nights per week. Each involves at least 1 one-on-one counseling session weekly and family counseling. Our therapists have years of experience in using this approach to helping people suffering from drug or alcohol addiction and/or mental issues. Our group sessions are limited to smaller numbers of participants to provide a more intimate, comfortable setting.

60-Day Aftercare Treatment Program At The Renaissance Recovery Center

Our rehab aftercare program is over a 60-day period, and it involves at least one group session per week. The sessions are designed to address issues people encounter in maintaining their recovery long-term. Discussions are candid and supportive. The aftercare program is a vital part of recovery, enabling all our clients to benefit from the kind of continuing support that has proven to help people succeed in their recovery long-term.
